

THE WAMPANOAG TRIBE OF GAY HEAD (AQUINNAH)

Presents

Wampanoag Environmental Health Consumer Expo 2009

Leading...Learning...Sharing...

SATURDAY, MAY 16 · 9 a.m. - 4 p.m.
HARBOR VIEW HOTEL, EDGARTOWN

Join us for this Exciting, First-of-its-kind Event!

A Day of Information, Speakers,
Exhibitors from near and far...

Environmentally Friendly Door Prizes!

Giveaways!

Contact Cynthia at (508)645-9265 x 149 or email cynthia@wampanoagtribe.net

"Our people have always respected our Mother Earth. We must return that respect by taking care of our environment and in turn, it will take care of us. We welcome the opportunity to host this event as we learn how, together we can improve our environment for us and our generations to come."

— Cheryl Andrews-Maltais,
Aquinnah Wampanoag Chairwoman

Leading...Learning...Sharing...

PRESENTATIONS

- "Mold, Mildew and You: Control Indoor Moisture and Protect Your Health" with Jeffrey May, nationally known Mold Expert of May Indoor Air Investigations, LLC
- "Bringing It All Back Home: Local Food=Local Health" with Ali Berlow and Noli Taylor of Island Grown Initiative, farmer and food advocates
- "Tularemia and other Tick-Borne Diseases among the Wampanoag Tribe of Gay Head (Aquinnah)" with Alison Hinckley, PhD, Division of Vector-Borne Infectious Disease, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
- "Pollution at Home: Tips for Avoiding Everyday Chemicals that May Affect Health" with Robin Dodson of Silent Spring Institute
- "Connect the Dots...The connection between the health of the Vineyard watersheds and the health of Vineyard residents: An update on the Aquinnah Wampanoag Natural Resources Department Environmental programs" with Bret Stearns, Director
- "The Island Plan – Water Resources: An Update" with Bill Wilcox, Water Resource Planner, MV Commission and Bret Stearns, Director Aquinnah Wampanoag Natural Resources Department